The Calcutta University Commission of 1917

On September 14, 1917 the Government of India, through a resolution appointed the Calcutta University Commission. Dr. Michael Sadler, the vice chancellor of the Leeds University, was appointed its Chairman. This is why it goes by the name of 'Sadler Commission' in history. Among other members of the commission were 1. Dr. Gregory 2. Prof. Ramsay Muir 3. Sir Hartog, 4. Mr Hornell 5. Dr. Zia Uddin Ahmed and 6. Sir Auston Mookerjee. Though the commission had been appointed to inquire into the working condition of the Calcutta University, yet it was provided that it could examine the working of the Universities. This is why the Commission possesses an India wide significance and application. After a labour of well-nigh 17 months, the commission submitted its report in the year 1919.

Recommendations:

1. Intermediate classes should be separated from Universities and a curriculum spreading over three years should be prescribed for the degree of B.A. the stage of admission to the University was to be Intermediate and not Matriculation examination.
2. Intermediate colleges should be established for the sake of completing the first stage. These colleges should conduct teaching in Arts, Science, Medicine, Engineering, Education, Agriculture and Commerce.
3. A separate High schools and Intermediate Board should be formed in every province, consisting of representatives of the Government Universities, High schools and Intermediate Colleges, for the sake of managing secondary education.

Introduction:

Smartphone's are regular classroom accessories. Many educational institutions, especially higher education institutions, are considering to embrace Smartphone's as part of learning aids in classes as most students (in many cases all students) not only own them but also are also attached to them.

Smartphone's are used by many to access information and knowledge from the internet. In fact, some people develop knowledge by accessing a pool of knowledge from the internet using their Smartphone's. Hence, Smartphone's can definitely be taken as to enhance education. Nowadays, students and Teachers can access information and knowledge easily from the internet and they can also have discussions in social networks and get quick answers from peers, lecturers or even experts.
